

Letting the light of Jesus Christ shine in our discipleship is the ultimate form of renewable energy—energy from a source which is constantly replenished.

By bringing Christ's relief and light to others, we find our own relief in Him.

President Nelson taught, "Whatever questions or problems you have, the answer is always found in the life and teachings of Jesus Christ."

President Camille N. Johnson

Reflection:

- How am I actively "keeping oil in my lamp" right now?
- When was the last time I intentionally acted as a steward for someone else's well-being?
- Who around me might need more than just good intentions from me right now?

Letting the light of Jesus Christ shine in our discipleship is the ultimate form of renewable energy—energy from a source which is constantly replenished.

By bringing Christ's relief and light to others, we find our own relief in Him.

President Nelson taught, "Whatever questions or problems you have, the answer is always found in the life and teachings of Jesus Christ."

President Camille N. Johnson

Reflection:

- How am I actively "keeping oil in my lamp" right now?
- When was the last time I intentionally acted as a steward for someone else's well-being?
- Who around me might need more than just good intentions from me right now?

Letting the light of Jesus Christ shine in our discipleship is the ultimate form of renewable energy—energy from a source which is constantly replenished.

By bringing Christ's relief and light to others, we find our own relief in Him.

President Nelson taught, "Whatever questions or problems you have, the answer is always found in the life and teachings of Jesus Christ."

President Camille N. Johnson

Reflection:

- How am I actively "keeping oil in my lamp" right now?
- When was the last time I intentionally acted as a steward for someone else's well-being?
- Who around me might need more than just good intentions from me right now?

Letting the light of Jesus Christ shine in our discipleship is the ultimate form of renewable energy—energy from a source which is constantly replenished.

By bringing Christ's relief and light to others, we find our own relief in Him.

President Nelson taught, "Whatever questions or problems you have, the answer is always found in the life and teachings of Jesus Christ."

President Camille N. Johnson

Reflection:

- How am I actively "keeping oil in my lamp" right now?
- When was the last time I intentionally acted as a steward for someone else's well-being?
- Who around me might need more than just good intentions from me right now?